“Our students come from such diverse contexts, so our curriculum and language should reflect and respect that diversity.”

“Have we asked impacted community groups for their perspective?”

“This role is perfect for a young person with lived experience.”

“Part of promoting positive mental health in the workplace involves respecting someone’s sense of self and the significance they attach to their identity.”

“I know not everyone is out in the workplace or at University, and that’s why it’s important for me to be a vocal Ally without someone being obviously hurt by a policy or behaviour.”

“I don’t think it’s special treatment to give someone the supports and resources that help them bring their best self to work. I think our diverse contexts are part of what makes our team great.”

“I think it should just be normal to refer to your ‘partner’ or ‘significant other’ – knowing someone’s gender rarely impacts a story about your weekend!”

“COVID has been an isolating time for young rainbow people: we could help fundraise for the social connection and supports offered by groups like Minus18 or YGender,”
