- b) Other naming of University property.
- c) The affixing of memorials to University property in recognition of a person, group, or an organisation.
- d) The affixing of signage to University property to detail the history of the land and building / place, reflecting the history of the University and how it has evolved over time.

2.2. This policy does not apply to proposers and approvers of:

- a) the temporary affixation of a memorial or signage to University property for a duration that is the same or shorter than the duration of a memorial service or event.

3. Authority

3.1. This policy is made under the University of Melbourne Act 2009 \(Vic\) and the Council Regulation.

4. Policy

4.1. Naming, or the affixing of memorials or signage, under this policy must:

- a) align with the naming principles outlined in this policy;
- b) align with the objects, values, strategies and policies of the University and community expectations;
- c) be sensitive to the history and character of the University;
- d) respect and endeavour to reflect the diversity of the University community;

- e) not harm the University's reputation, or other interests, including the University's commitment to maintaining high standards of integrity, academic freedom and freedom of speech;
 - f) not benefit, directly or by association, any current employee;
 - g) be commensurate with the contribution made by any person or organisation recognised by the name; and
 - h) where the naming or affixing of a memorial is associated with a philanthropic gift, donation or sponsorship, not occur until a level of benefaction has been agreed in writing between the University and the donor, or sponsor.
- 4.2. Naming recognition under this policy must abide by the relevant gift threshold levels set under the Gift Policy (MPF1348).
- 4.3. A memorial may be fixed to University property provided:
- a) the memorial recognises a person or organisation, who has made a distinguished contribution to the University, or whose reputation has brought credit to the University; or
 - b) the memorial recognises a donor (a person or organisation) who has made a significant gift to the University.
- 4.4. Principles for Naming University Property and Entities All buildings and rooms will be allocated a unique number for purposes of identification. This number is the default mechanism of identification for buildings that have not been given an additional name.
- 4.5. Buildings and places may have an additional name that is the primary nomenclature for identification and wayfinding.
- 4.6. Subject to the terms of any relevant lease, University property may be named in order to:
- a) recognise the land, traditions and heritage of the Traditional Owners upon which the University property is located;
 - b) recognise the University's history, traditions and heritage;
 - c) recognise a partnership or commercial arrangement;
 - d) describe the location or activity occurring within the building;
 - e) describe an architectural feature or concept related to the building; and
 - f) in exceptional circumstances, recognise contributions (financial, service or otherwise) made to the University by donors, alumni, staff and our wider communities.
- 4.7. There may be circumstances where a name falls outside of these categories. Processes for approval of these names will be determined on a case-by-case basis.
- 4.8. Building and place names should have clarity and simplicity.
- 4.9. Building and place names are normally bestowed for a period of 25 years.
- 4.10. Where the name of a place is bestowed by Indigenous Elders in recognition of Country, the name can be enduring. It is recommended that enduring locations, features and landscapes, rather than built entities (which usually have a lifecycle), are named in recognition of Country.
- 4.11. Building and place names may renewed (excepting those named in accordance with clause 4.10), particularly where they recognise the history or heritage of the University, or Indigenous cultural heritage.
- 4.12. In the rare circumstance that a building or place is named in recognition of a person or entity, names should:
- a) meet the standards outlined under 4.1 and 4.2;
 - b) take into account the broader context and balance of existing place names on campus;
 - c) be commensurate with the contribution of the person to the academy, to the University, to community or to society; and

- d) in the case of a donor or benefactor, be commensurate with the financial contribution of the donor.
- 4.13. University property may be named for a fixed period not exceeding 25 years to recognise a sponsor (a person or organisation) that has agreed to significantly sponsor the University.

Principles for Naming Academic Positions, Academic Programs and Student or Staff Awards

- 4.14. An academic or non-academic entity or, subject to consultation with the Academic Board, an academic program, may be named to recognise a person or organisation that has provided financial or in-kind support to the University.
- 4.15. A new or existing academic position, a staff award or a student award may be named to recognise a person or organisation that has supported the University through distinguished effort or substantial financial contribution.

Prohibitions

- 4.16. Proposed names must not include:
 - a) a person's titles or post-nominals; and
 - b) the name of a corporate entity, where there is an identifiable individual or family name that could be used.
- 4.17. Proposed names or memorials must not be in recognition of a current employee.
- 4.18. Unless required by law, proposed names or memorials associated with a philanthropic gift must not include logos, branding, other images or legal entity identifiers.
- 4.19. Nothing in this policy restricts a proposed name that is associated with sponsorship from including logos, branding, other images or legal entity identifiers.
- 4.20. A proposed name of a non-academic entity should avoid nomenclature reserved for specific academic entities (for example "institute" or "research centre") as described in University Regulations.
- 4.21. Approval of a name, or the affixing of a memorial, under this policy does not:
 - a) confer on any person, group or organisation any special privileges or any control or responsibility for the associated University property, entity or academic position, academic programs, and student or staff awards;
 - b) allow any person, group or organisation to seek material benefit from the association of the name or the memorial with the University; and
 - c) where University property is involved, transfer to any replacement University property.

Renaming of University property or removal of a memorial

- 4.22. The University reserves the right to review and rename buildings and places/University property at any time.
- 4.23. Contexts in which renaming may occur include:
 - a) When a building or space is demolished or significantly redeveloped.
 - b) When a commercial contract or agreement associated with the name of a building or space ends.
 - c) When there is strong evidence that the retention of a name is inconsistent with the principles of Section 4.1 and/or the University's values and mission.
 - d) When a building passes the 25-year review point.

- 4.24. Where there is strong evidence that retention of a name, or a memorial, is inconsistent with the principles of Section 4.1:
- a) the University property, entity, academic position, academic program, student or staff award may be renamed;
 - b) a memorial may be removed; and / or
 - c) where University property is involved, signage may be affixed to detail the history of a person / people , who are the subject of controversy recognised by the University, after whom the University property is/was named.
- 4.25. The University is committed to ensuring that history is not erased or distorted through decisions to retain or revoke and rename buildings and places. The University will approach all decisions in the spirit of critical engagement with the past and how our telling of history changes over time.
- 4.26. Where property or memorials are renamed an appropriate public acknowledgement should be made of the reasons for the change.
- 4.27. Council may approve protocols to guide the University's response to renaming or removing memorials and any decision made under Section 4.26.
- 4.28. Memorials may also be removed where continued affixation to University property is not practicable or the condition of the memorial is poor.
