Master of Veterinary Studies
(150 credit points)

1. In order to be considered for entry, applicants must have completed:
   • a degree in Veterinary Science, or an equivalent qualification from a Veterinary School listed in the World Health Organisation Directory of Veterinary Schools; and
   • eligibility for registration with the Veterinary Practitioners Registration Board of Victoria in accordance with legislative requirements to practice as a veterinarian in Victoria;
   • documented evidence of the applicant's professional experience in the practice of veterinary science as it relates to the area to be studied; and
   • documented evidence of the applicant's participation in continuing professional education activities as it relates to the discipline to be studied.

Meeting these requirements does not guarantee selection.

2. In ranking applications, the Selection committee will consider:
   • prior academic performance; and
   • the professional experience; and
   • the professional continuing education activities.

3. The Selection committee may seek further information to clarify any aspect of an application in accordance with the Academic Board Rules on the use of selection instruments.

4. Applicants are required to satisfy the university’s English language requirements for graduate courses. For those applicants seeking to meet these requirements by one of the standard tests approved by the Academic Board, performance Band 6.5 is required.

Notes: Admission into the MVS is conditional on the applicant successfully applying for and enrolling into a research higher degree: the Master of Veterinary Science (Clinical). The successful applicant will be admitted into the two part-time courses concurrently.
Graduate Certificate of Veterinary Public Health

(50 credit points)

1. In order to be considered for entry, applicants must have completed:
   - A degree in Veterinary Science, or an equivalent qualification from a Veterinary School listed in the World Health Organisation Directory of Veterinary Schools, and at least 2 years of documented relevant work experience in the diagnosis and control of animal diseases; or
   - an undergraduate degree in a relevant scientific field (such as agriculture or biology), with a demonstrated appropriate background in Master of Veterinary Public Health core curriculum areas including veterinary anatomy, physiology, pathology and microbiology, and at least 4 years of documented relevant work experience in the diagnosis and control of animal disease (for example, as a government employed Animal Health Officer)

Meeting these requirements does not guarantee selection.

2. In ranking applications, the Selection Committee will consider:
   - Prior academic performance; and
   - Professional experience.

3. The Selection Committee may seek further information to clarify any aspect of an application in accordance with the Academic Board Rules on the use of selection instruments.

4. Applicants are required to satisfy the university’s English language requirements for graduate courses. For those applicants seeking to meet these requirements by one of the standard tests approved by the Academic Board, performance band 6.5 is required.

Notes

(a) Up to 25 credit points of advanced standing may be given to applicants who have either:
   - an undergraduate degree in a cognate discipline and a minimum of two years (veterinary graduate) or four years (other graduate) of documented animal health related work experience; or
   - a Graduate Certificate or Graduate Diploma in a cognate discipline.

(b) Students enrolled in the University of Melbourne Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) may be permitted to enrol in the Graduate Certificate of Veterinary Public Health after the completion of the second year of the DVM and may receive up to 25 points of advanced standing. This pathway is not available to students who have already completed the DVM.

Doctor of Veterinary Medicine
(400 credit points)

Normal Entry (Graduate Selection)

1. In order to be considered for entry, applicants must have completed:
   - the Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Biomedicine or Bachelor of Agriculture degree at the University of Melbourne, or an equivalent degree from another institution, including specified prerequisite subjects (at least one semester of study in biology and at least one semester of study in biochemistry), and
   - a personal statement demonstrating interest in and commitment to animal health, production and welfare and interest in and commitment to pursuing a career in the veterinary science profession and any experience working with animals and/or in other fields relevant to veterinary science.

Meeting these requirements does not guarantee selection.

2. In ranking applications, the Selection Committee will consider:
   - prior academic performance in tertiary science subjects, with a 3:1 weighting placed on final year level subjects relative to penultimate year level subjects, and
   - the personal statement.

3. The Selection Committee may seek further information to clarify any aspect of an application in accordance with the Academic Board Rules on the use of selection instruments.

4. Applicants are required to satisfy the university’s English language requirements for graduate courses. For those applicants seeking to meet these requirements by one of the standard tests approved by the Academic Board, performance band 7 is required.

Entry with Advanced Standing via the Veterinary Bioscience Specialisation of the Animal Health and Disease Major of the Bachelor of Science Degree at the University of Melbourne (Undergraduate Selection)

The alternative pathway for entry to the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine is available to current undergraduate students who have completed two years of the Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Melbourne, including the specified prerequisite subjects.

Applicants apply for the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine at the end of their second year and, if successful, are enrolled into subjects in the Veterinary Bioscience specialisation of the Animal Health and Disease major of the Bachelor of Science.
Students selected via this pathway who then successfully complete the Bachelor of Science, including all subjects in the Animal Health and Disease major (Veterinary Bioscience specialisation) will be assured entry in to the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine program, with credit for all subjects at the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine at first year level (100 credit points). The selection point into the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine is therefore prior to the third year of the Bachelor of Science.

1. In order to be considered for entry, applicants must have completed:
   - the first and second years of the Bachelor of Science (or Bachelor of Biomedicine) degree at the University of Melbourne, including specified prerequisite subjects, and
   - a personal statement demonstrating interest in and commitment to animal health, production and welfare and interest in and commitment to pursuing a career in the veterinary science profession and any experience working with animals and/or in other fields relevant to veterinary science.

Meeting these requirements does not guarantee selection.

2. In ranking applications, the Selection Committee will consider:
   - prior academic performance in tertiary science subjects, with a 3:1 weighting placed on second (and any completed third-year) level subjects relative to first-year level subjects, and
   - the personal statement.

3. The Selection Committee may seek further information to clarify any aspect of an application in accordance with the Academic Board Rules on the use of selection instruments.

4. Applicants are required to satisfy the university’s English language requirements for graduate courses. For those applicants seeking to meet these requirements by one of the standard tests approved by the Academic Board, performance band 7 is required.

NOTES
- For more detailed information on selection into the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine course and the Selection Guidelines, see: https://study.unimelb.edu.au/find/courses/graduate/doctor-of-veterinary-medicine/entry-requirements/
- The Selection Committee will consider Graduate Access Melbourne applications from domestic graduates and undergraduates for Commonwealth Supported Places and Australian Fee Places in the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine course. For more information on Graduate Access Melbourne, see: https://study.unimelb.edu.au/find/courses/graduate/doctor-of-veterinary-medicine/entry-requirements/ and https://study.unimelb.edu.au/how-to-apply/special-entry-access-schemes/access-melbourne-graduate
- From 2023 onwards, assessment of graduate and undergraduate applicants for selection into the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine course will cease to be based on the Adjusted Science Grade Point Average. Instead, ranking will be based on the Adjusted Weighted Average Mark.
This change means that the weighted average marks achieved in all subjects (not just science subjects) completed in the penultimate and most recent year of study in the science-based undergraduate degree will be used to calculate the WAM. The WAM will then be adjusted if the applicant is awarded additional selection points as appropriate for completion of further study (e.g. an honours year) in a related science field of study, completion of a higher degree (e.g. MSc or PhD in a related science field, the personal statement, a Graduate Access Melbourne application or an application for the special entry pathway for graduates from rural campuses.

- Successful graduate and undergraduate applicants must consent to be vaccinated against Q fever, or provide evidence of previous vaccination/inoculation against Q fever upon request.

Graduate Degree Packages for High Achieving School Leavers

The University of Melbourne offers Graduate Degree Packages to high achieving school leavers, allowing them to secure places (Commonwealth Supported Places for domestic students or International Fee Places for non-domestic students) in the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine course if they meet certain requirements.

For a Commonwealth Supported Place or an International Fee Place, the applicant must:

- complete an Australian Year 12 or the International Baccalaureate (IB) in 2018 or a later year in Australia (or, for Australian citizens only, outside Australia)
- achieve an ATAR (or notional ATAR) of at least 98.50;
- apply for a University of Melbourne Graduate Degree Package for commencement in the year following completion of Year 12 or the IB via VTAC;
- enrol immediately or be granted deferral in the year following completion of Year 12 or the IB;
- complete the first and second years of the Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Melbourne, including specified prerequisite subjects;
- achieve a minimum weighted average mark of H2B (70%) across all level 1 science subjects and a weighted average mark of H2B (70%) average across all level 2 science subjects;
- at the time of enrolment in the Veterinary Bioscience specialisation in the Animal Health and Disease major, submit a personal statement demonstrating interest and commitment to animal health, production and welfare and in pursuing a career in the veterinary science profession, and
- commence the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine within 18 months of completing the undergraduate degree.

Applicants should refer to the University Handbook for the additional entry requirements for the Bachelor of Science.

Guaranteed Entry for High Achieving Domestic School Leavers
High achieving domestic school leavers can secure Australian Full Fee-Paying Places in the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine course at the University of Melbourne, if they meet certain requirements.

For a guaranteed Australian Full Fee-Paying Place, the applicant must:

- complete an Australian Year 12 or the International Baccalaureate (IB) in 2018 or a later year
- achieve an ATAR (or notional ATAR) of between 95.00 and 98.45;
- enrol in the Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Melbourne in the year following completion of Year 12 or the IB;
- complete the first and second years of the Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Melbourne, including specified prerequisite subjects;
- achieve a minimum weighted average mark of H2B (70%) across all level 1 science subjects and a weighted average mark of H2B (70%) average across all level 2 science subjects;
- apply for entry into the Veterinary Bioscience specialisation in the Animal Health and Disease major at the end of the second year of the Bachelor of Science degree, and
- at the time of application, submit a personal statement demonstrating interest and commitment to animal health, production and welfare and in pursuing a career in the veterinary science profession.

Applicants should refer to the University Handbook for the additional entry requirements for the Bachelor of Science.

For applicants who have not completed the Victorian Certificate of Education or the International Baccalaureate Diploma, the undergraduate English language requirements (http://futurestudents.unimelb.edu.au/admissions/entry-requirements/language-requirements) must be met.

Note. For applications through the Victorian Tertiary Admission Centre, "middle-band" selection adjustments are made only on the basis of eligibility for Access Melbourne.

Graduate Certificate in Advanced Veterinary Practice
(50 credit points)

1. In order to be considered for entry, applicants must have completed:
   • a degree in Veterinary Science, or an equivalent qualification from a Veterinary School listed in the World Health Organisation Directory of Veterinary Schools; and
   • a minimum of 2 years of professional experience.

Meeting these requirements does not guarantee selection.
2. In ranking applications, the Selection Committee will consider:
   - prior academic performance; and
   - the professional experience;

3. The Selection Committee may seek further information to clarify any aspect of an application in accordance with the Academic Board Rules on the use of selection instruments.

4. Applicants are required to satisfy the university’s English language requirements for postgraduate courses. For those applicants seeking to meet these requirements by one of the standard tests approved by the Academic Board, performance band 6.5 is required.
